

PRODUCTS FOR EMPLOYEE RECOGNITION

Your employees are probably your company's most valuable asset. You've trained them, invested in them, and they know your business. But do they know how much their contributions mean to you?

Acknowledging your employees' efforts – whether it's a sales award, a longevity award, or simply a “thank you” for a job well done – can mean the difference between success and failure for your company.

Let PEI help you recognize your valuable employees with a beautiful, unique gift item. Whether you have an annual awards ceremony, a company Holiday party, or just a one-on-one with the employees, give them something that will remind them of you and your company, and encourage their loyalty to you.

Ornaments or keepsakes are an excellent way to do this. A high-quality piece will show them that you appreciate their efforts.

For over 30 years, PEI has been creating and crafting fine decorative pieces in a variety of metals and finishes for corporations like yours. We have developed a complete “soup to nuts” program that will let you recognize your valuable employees with a minimum of effort. PEI will:

- Help you identify your “targets” – by longevity, department, goal etc.
- Develop a marketing plan to reward your targets using etched ornaments and or other collectible items.
- Create a unique piece that meets your budget and your specifications, while conveying your thanks and gratitude to your employees.
- Create a package insert to mirror the message you are sending with the gift.
